SUNDAY SCHOOLS EXTENDED

The annual report of W. L. Guinn, missionary of the American Sunday School union, of work done in Nevada during the past year, shows an increase in activities throughout the state. A total of 33 new schools were established during the year. Most of the work done in the rural communities, was among homesteaders and new settlers on the reclamation projects of the state.

RENO TREASURER IN CLEAR

The city treasurer of Reno is able to present a ledger with the figures on the right side of the page for the first time in the history of the city. The treasurer's report shows a clear cash balance, after deducting the November taxes and paying bills up to Jan. 10, of $4,885 in favor of the city.

The Superior Humorist.

It is the mark of the superior humorist that he arouses thought as well as laughter, and George Meredith held this to be the test of true comedy of the loftier type.—Bauder Matthews in Harper's Magazine.

There is no greater delight than to be conscious of sincerity on self examination.—Mencius.

OVERHEAD TRAM FOR VICTOR MINE ORES

EXTENSION SINKING TO MEET CROSSCUT FROM NEW WORKINGS IN NORTH GROUND

The Tonopah Extension Mining company has started work on the installation of an overhead tramway from the Victor hoist to the Extension mill, for the purpose of conveying ore from that shaft to the mill for treatment. The third rail system that is at present in operation between the reduction works and the No. 2 shaft would have been extended, if it were not for having to cross the railroad tracks.

President Ward of the company is here conferring with General Manager Kirchen on the new developments in this property, which, since the taking over of the Victor and Mercer, has become one of the greatest silver mines in the world.

The incline that is being dropped on the vein from the Extension's 1250 foot level is now down 110 feet. It will be extended 150 feet further to connect with the crosscut that is being advanced from the Victor, which has about 200 feet yet to make. Bins are now being constructed at the Victor shaft and as soon as they are completed the extraction of ore from three places in the property, the Murray, Mercer and North Mercer veins, will begin.

SUICIDE AND VICTIM TO BE BURIED HERE

CONDITION OF MRS. FERRARA THIS AFTERNOON REPORTED TO BE ENCOURAGING

The bodies of James Ferrara, the Tonopah business man who was shot Monday morning, and his slayer, Aldo Zamboni, who afterwards committed suicide, will both be interred in the Tonopah cemetery, the slayer and his victim to be occupants of nearby graves.

The Ferrara funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock from the undertaking parlors and the funeral of Zamboni will be at 11 the following morning.

Mrs. Ferrara, who was shot through the head by Zamboni, is reported from the Mine Operators' hospital this afternoon to be doing very well. The chances are in favor of her recovery.

PEACE BETWEEN RAILROAD AND SHIPPERS IS DESIRED

(By Associated Press.)

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Jan. 19.—W. H. Grumpe, president of the Western Fruit Jobbers' association, told delegates attending the twelfth annual convention of the organization here that more friendly relations between the railways and shippers were essential to the welfare of both.

"Let us approach the railroads with the olive branch," Mr. Grumpe said. "All we want is justice and nothing is to be gained by antagonism."

Home is—

Where you wish you were about twenty times a day when you are away from it.

Where you got three square meals a day and didn't appreciate them.

Where you can use the shower bath any time you want it.

Where you can step across the hall wearing a Turkish towel and a cake of soap without fear of seven or eight people seeing you.

Where you don't have to dress for dinner.

Where you don't have to tip some one every two hours.

Where the view isn't much, but the food and beds and company and general environments have got it all over any other spot on the map.

Where you go when all the other places are closed.—Boston Herald.

Peppy at a Feast.

Peppy's account of the lord mayor's banquet which he attended in 1903 illustrates the earnestness of the proceedings at that time. He made his way to the Guildhall at noon, "went up and down to see the tables" and then had a drink, refusing wine in consequence of a vow, but persuading his conscience that he might indulge in hipposas, a compound of wine and spices. Soon after 1 o'clock came the lord mayor, "and so all to dinner." Afterward Peppy strolled about the ladies' room, but could not discern one handsome face there and, "being worried with looking upon a company of ugly women," went off to Cheapside to see the pageants, "which were very silly." Thus the lord mayor's show in those days came after dinner.—London Standard.

The case of Porter vs. Lockett, both litigants being from Rhyolite, is on trial today in the district court before Judge Averill.

GREAT WESTERN NOW NEARLY UNWATERED

BONANZA SHAFT IS NOW BEING POINTED TOWARD THE 1500-FOOT MARK

John Magee, general manager of the Tonopah Bonanza and Great Western Mining companies, has returned from a trip to San Francisco. He states that the business which took him to the coast was of a personal nature and had nothing to do with the acquisition of more property in the western part of the district by the Greenwater Mining and Smelting company, or the Schwab interests, which concern he represents.

The Great Western is now nearly unwatered. Within a day or two an inspection of the bottom of the shaft will be made, when it will be decided whether to continue the bore downward or crosscut the country.

In the Bonanza good progress in sinking is being made. The shaft is now down 1660 feet. No lateral work will be done until the 1500 foot point is reached.

HERMAN WOLFSEN IS BORNE TO HIS REST

The funeral of the late Herman Wolfson took place this afternoon at 2 o'clock from Wannacott & Cavanaugh's undertaking parlors and the interment was in the Eagles' plot in the Tonopah cemetery, the deceased having been a member of that order for a number of years. A large concourse of friends attended the services and accompanied his body to the grave.

JAPANESE INTERESTED IN AVIATION STUNT

(By Associated Press.)

TOKIO, Jan. 19.—Rarely has an event excited the Japanese people as did the flight of Charles Niles, the American aviator who gave two exhibitions before some of the largest crowds ever witnessed in Japan. The first day's crowd was estimated at 200,000 and the second at 300,000. The house-tops and other points of vantage about the Oyama parade grounds where Mr. Niles manoeuvred in the air were black with people and many arrived hours before the time of flying in order to get a good position. Prince Higashi Kuni who is deeply interested in aviation was present on both occasions as were several of the junior princes of the Imperial Japanese house.

Right, but Wrong.

The late Professor Thomas R. Lounsbury of Yale, speaking at Cambridge, England, on the proper use of English, according to the Philadelphia Bulletin, said:

"But precision can be carried too far. The ultra precise, even when logically right, are really wrong."

"An ultra precise professor went into a hardware shop and said, 'Show me a shears, please!'"

"You mean a pair of shears, don't you?" said the dealer.

"No," said the professor; "I mean what I say. I mean a shears."

"The dealer took down a box of shears."

"Look here, professor," he said, "aren't there two blades here? And don't two make a pair?"

"Well, you've got two legs. Does that make you a pair of men?"

The professor smiled at the dealer triumphantly through his spectacles.

"He was logically right," said Professor Lounsbury, "but really he was wrong."

Girls in Korea.

Girls in Korea have no names or what would be considered names in the western world. There are no Marys or Mabels or Ruths. The little ones are given pet names at their birth, and these they bear until they are ten years old; after which they are no longer used. After her tenth birthday the young woman is known as "Mr. Kim's daughter" or "Mr. Kim's girl baby." The latter title is considered the more honorable.

If there are several daughters in the family they are distinguished by such words as "big" (for the eldest), "second," "third," "fourth," etc. After marriage they are known by their husband's name and title, with the word "house" affixed. They may also be distinguished by the name of the place from which they came when marrying, as "Mrs. of the House of Kim, the young lady who came from Keng Jo."

The Luxury of Disdain.

"What is your dog's pedigree?" "He hasn't any," replied Mr. Growch. "That's why I keep him around. I'm shy on distinguished ancestry myself, and I enjoy having a creature at hand whom I can contemplate with supercilious superiority."—Washington Star.

UMATILLA PLANNING TO CROSSCUT SOUTH

SHOWING IN THE MIDWAY GIVES ENCOURAGEMENT TO NEIGHBOR'S MANAGEMENT

Owing to the stretching of the diamond drill, which was being sunk below the 1200 level of the Umatilla, work in that property has temporarily ceased. The Extension and Montana companies were hitherto assisting the Umatilla in its exploration work in order to prove their own ground, but the Extension has dropped out.

The Montana and Umatilla, or possibly the Umatilla alone, will continue development work, but it will probably be in the form of a south crosscut on the 1200 level. On account of the excellent showing now being made in the Midway, the unexplored territory of the Umatilla in that direction looks very promising.

DEER STOP TRAIN IN OWENS VALLEY

SEARCH FOR FOOD IN LOWLANDS WHEN HEAVY SNOW FALLS

A curious situation confronted an engineer on the railroad running from Bishop through the Inyo county farming district recently, according to the Owens Valley Herald. The heavy snows in the Sierras and the White mountains have caused the wild animals of the highlands to search for food in the lower valleys.

Driven down from the mountains by the recent heavy snows, a herd of 30 deer was responsible for the slowing down of the south-bound train last Monday. The deer were crossing the track directly in front of the train, a short distance from Zurich station. When the engineer applied the brakes and whistled, the deer were within a few feet of the pilot.

The frightened animals separated into two herds, part of them heading for the White mountains, while the rest returned to the Sierras, from which they had come.

EQUIPMENT SOLD

The equipment used in the construction of the Lahontan irrigation dam, near Fallon, has been sold to good advantage because of the increased price of scrap iron. The machinery was largely taken by California purchasers and the ready sale was due to a shortage of metal on account of the war. The total revenue derived from the sale of the iron is $35,000, with over 15,000 worth still to be sold. This is a 50-per cent realization on the original investment of $100,000. The equipment was used four years.

SCHOOLS ON FALLON PROJECT

The dedication of a new concrete school building at Harmon, a small farming community near Fallon and on the reclamation project, marked the first extension of the rural school system in Churchill county on a large scale. The building is the result of a $5,000 bond issue and is a large structure, sufficient for the needs of the community for years to come. The farmers donated their services and the cost of the building was thus kept within the specified amount.

Jefferson Was a "Sloppy" Dresser.

In dress President Jefferson was governed by comfort rather than by elegance. "Fridge costs more than hunger, thirst and cold," he used to say, and as he lived in an epoch that witnessed a mighty revolution in men's clothing as well as in men's government, monarchy's cues and velvets giving way to short hair and the useful, ungainly pantaloons, only the watchfulness of his body servant saved him from unbelievable anachronisms of costume. Indeed, in later life, at Monticello, where this democrat ruled absolute king, he often wore the garments of several different periods together, like superimposed geologic strata or the historic remains in the Roman Forum.—Helen Nicolay in Century Magazine.

The Soft Answer.

The saving sense of humor! "I am filled with disgust and indignation!" began an angry caller on a business man.

"Well, well," interrupted the business man, "sit down and we'll talk it over. You will be just as full seated and a lot more comfortable." How could disgust and indignation continue in the face of such a greeting?—Youth's Companion.

His Excuse.

"Uncle Mose, your first wife tells me that you are three months behind with your alimony."

"Yes, Judge. Ah reckon dat am so. But, yo' see, it's jes' dis way: Dat second wife of mine ain't turned out r' be the worker that Ah thought she was gwine t' be."—Detroit Free Press.

Setting a Fashion.

Some years ago the coral fishers of Torre del Greco, near Naples, were in hard straits. The value of coral had fallen so low that they were no longer able to find purchasers for their harvest. At last in their despair they began to sell the coral to their aid. At the first great court ball that was held that year at the Quirinal the queen, to the surprise of all beholders, wore about her neck a collar composed of six rows of coral instead of her superb collar of pearls, and her black hair was crowned with a diadem of coral and brilliants. From that evening the mode changed. Old coral ornaments that had been hidden away for years and years were again displayed at the jewelers' and were snapped up by eager purchasers. Queen Helena's object was attained, and that court ball marked the beginning of more prosperous days for the coral fishers of Torre del Greco.

BUTLER THEATER

Tonight's program at the Butler will consist of a Pathe comedy and a five reel Edison masterpiece entitled "Children of Eve," featuring Viola Dana in the role of "Fifty-fifty Mamie." It is a story of the New York tenderloin that you will never forget. Viola Dana as "Fifty-fifty Mamie," a notorious underworld character, vividly portrays the girl of loose morals, the chastened woman, and finally the earnest social condition investigator and worker. She perishes in a great factory fire, but fate ordains that her father, wealthy and owner of the factory, standing beside her maimed and burned form, shall learn from her lips her identity. Daughter of a woman he had known when a young man, and who had sacrificed herself for him, he never knew of the child's existence until a moment before she died. Until that moment he had known her only as a dissolute, sin-bowed girl, cherishing an over-powering pure love for his nephew, which he had thwarted by deceit and trickery. He sees his daughter die as he vainly tries to summon his nephew to her side. It is a powerful, far-reaching argument, presenting a question agitating the public mind today. The tale carries its own moral.

Tomorrow, Pathe Weekly, and a World feature, "The Flash of an Emerald," with Robert Warwick, a story of the modern society culture.
